Tailored business solutions

Improving organisational capability is essential. Public sector funding has decreased and private sector companies are reluctant to invest in long, expensive training courses to up-skill staff. The economic downturn has increased the demands on staff and necessitated a change in how employers retain and develop key staff.

Yuvak Vikas Samitee has developed short, flexible, value for money Continuous Personal and Professional Development (CPPD) courses. You can tailor them to meet your requirements and they can be delivered in your workplace or our campus – whichever suits you best.
